A crashpad is a shared residence used by airline crew members—primarily flight attendants and sometimes pilots—during layovers away from their home base. These accommodations serve as a comfortable, affordable place for crew to rest, shower, and sometimes socialize after long flights. Unlike hotels, crashpads foster a sense of community among crew members, often becoming a second home away from home.

The Origins and Evolution of Crashpads

Originally, crashpads emerged out of necessity for crew members to save on accommodation costs and to find convenient, reliable lodging during layovers. Over time, they evolved into hubs of social activity, where crew members exchange stories, vent frustrations, and build personal bonds. Today, crashpads can be as simple as a shared apartment or as elaborate as a house with multiple bedrooms and common areas.
